The above listed Registered Training Organisation (RTO) is authorised to deliver General Construction Induction (White Card) Training via Connected real-time delivery during the COVID-19 pandemic.

WorkSafe Victoria approval for training to be delivered through 'connected real-time delivery' is only for the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic. That is, only for as long as government restrictions do not allow for training to be delivered in the usual way through face to face classroom style training.

Due to current government restrictions this authorisation will apply until further notice.

WorkSafe will give the RTO 14 days notice before revoking this authorisation to deliver General Construction Induction (White Card) Training via Connected real-time delivery.
